Bond Issue Vote Is Set By County Supervisors

Two county bond issue proposals, totaling $2,550,000, will be voted on at the general election November 4.

Acting on the recommendation of County Administrator Desmond Teeter that the bond issues be submitted to the voters, the Board of Supervisors Tuesday took favorable action.

A BOND ISSUE of $1,400,000 would be used to purchase three buildings now being leased from the County Employes Retirement Fund.

Those structures are the administration building in Martinez, the two story county hospital ward building, and the new county building in Pittsburg.

The $1,000,000 bond isesue would provide for construction of an addition of 36,000 square feet to the administration building and the installation of mechanical improvements in the basement of the addition.

PURCHASE OF the buildings now being leased, according to Teeter, would save the county about $171,000 over the next 14 years.

He recommended the construction of additional administration building space because of increasingly crowded conditions in county offices.

If the bond issues pass, construction could be completed by the end of 1960.

Net interest of bond issues would not exceed 3¼ per cent, his figures indicated, and might be less.

ON ZONING matters the board took the following action:

1. Continued to 10:45 a.m. September 16 a hearing on a multiple family rezoning request by Dorothy Beebower and Dorothy Smith concerning Lafayette property.

2. Set 10 a.m. September 16 for a decision on an application by D. R. Underwood for multiple family residential rezoning of four acres at the south end of the Orinda interchange.

3. Granted an application by Robert A. Werum for sideyard variance in Lafayette Valley Estates.

4. Set 9 a.m. October 2 for a hearing on a rezoning request by Henry S. McJunkin to change six acres at Pleasant Hill Bypass and Grayson Road from transition residential agricultural to single family residential.

THE BOARD ALSO:

1. Approved a request of the Alameda - Contra Costa Transit District that district election of directors and the district's special bond elecion be held at the same time as the November 4 general election.

2. Changed the date of installation for the Contra Costa Rapid Transit Liaison Committee from September 18 to September 22.

3. Approved a contract with Vincent Evola and Son for reconstruction of Kittiwake Road, Orinda, and other roads, on the firm's previously accepted bid of $26,747.50.

4. Dropped a proposed call for bids for a bridge and road at Diablo Valley College near Concord.

5. Changed the name of Marvin Drive, Pleasant Hill, to Oakvue Road.

6. Authorized a crossing guard at Monument Boulevard and Galindo until Oak Grove Intermediate School is completed.

7. Authorized construction of curbs, gutters and sidewalks at Gregory Lane and Pleasant Hill Road, Pleasant Hill. General Petroleum Corporation is to reimburse the county for full costs, estimated at $794.09.

Scholarships

Two Orinda students at the University of California at Berkeley have been awarded undergraduate scholarships. They are Timothy Alden Miller, a junior in letters and science, the Sidney M. Ehrman scholarship; Leonard Mario Saputo, a sophomore in letters and science, the May T. Morrison loan scholarship.

Deferred Payment Of State Loans Nets Less Taxes

Contra Costa County taxpayers will benefit to the amount of $658,466 this fiscal year as a result of new legislation deferring that portion of repayment of state school building loans that would require a bond tax rate above 45 cents.

Instead of paying $879,989, as they would under the previous formula, the nine school districts which have received loans will repay only $221,523, according to Assistant County Superintendent Harold De Fraga.

De Fraga explained that the new law accompilshes what the legislature originally intended when establishing the state loan system — that the taxpayers of school districts receiving loans would be protected by a ceiling on the tax rate for annual repayment of school bonds, both local and state.

In administering the loan system, however, the State Department of Finance has required repayment in amounts necessitating bond tax rates well above 45 cents in some cases.

This has helped to push tax rates up in the past, DeFraga commented.

State school building loans not paid off after 30 years will be "forgiven" and will be absorbed by the taxpayers generally throughout the state.

Amounts of 1958-59 state loan repayments in local Contra Costa County school districts in contrast to what they would have been under the old formula are as follows:

Alamo — old: $21,547.64; new: $2,122.63; Lafayette — old: 78,206.78; new: 22,305.25; Mt. Diablo Unified — old: 462,829.23; new: 113,401.34; Walnut Creek — old: 109,233.67; new: 41,521.78.

District Hospital Criticized In Death of 'Plan' Member

Walnut Creek Kaiser Hospital plan members noted with interest last week that an injured man carrying a "health plan" card was transferred from another Contra Costa hospital in a dying condition, and enroute to a "health plan hospital"—died.

The "confidential" report submitted to the California Medical Association by Richard Blum, a consulting psychologist, did not say that the Walnut Creek Hospital was the "health plan" hospital involved, or that the Pittsburg Community Hospital was the hospital which rejected the health plan member.

But there are no other health plan hospitals in Contra Costa County. And Pittsburg Hospital officials did not make any denials, although it was described in the report according to the number of its patients, its staff members, occupations of its trustees and so forth.

And the Pittsburg Community Hospital was mentioned specifically in State Assembly discussions pertaining to the report by Assemblyman Byron Rumford of Berkeley.

The report by Blum said that a doctor in the receiving hospital "hated" the medical plan, and deliberately directed that the man be put back in the ambulance at once, resulting in the man's death. The victim's medical plan identification card had been found in his trousers.

Many other accusations were leveled at the community hospital, and also three other hospitals in California.

The Walnut Creek Kaiser was not criticized in any way, however, and was only involved indirectly, since the dead man was a Kaiser member.

The report has resulted in a decision by the state assembly subcommittee on hospitals to investigate.

Drowning Victim Found; Two Other Youths Sought

Still missing yesterday were two Lafayette boys believed to have been drowned after an outboard motor boat upset on Lake Tahoe.

A search party found the body of Ronnie Junker, 13, son of Mrs. Ralph Junker, 3809 Happy Valley Road, in the water about eight miles from Bijou, where he and two companions rented a boat with an outboard motor Monday.

SEARCH WAS continuing for his brother, Ralph, 16, and Sheridan (Danny) Selix, 14, son of V. W. Selix of Reliez Valley Road.

Sheriff's deputies said they believed the boys' boat ran out of gas, and that the boat was capsized by waves.

Joining in the search were boats and sea planes under the direction of the sheriff's office.

The body of Ronnie was recovered, deputies said, because he was wearing a life jacket. They reported little hope of finding the other two victims unless they had been wearing life jackets.

THE YOUTHS had been spending a vacation with Mrs. Junker in a cottage at Bijou, and rented a 14-foot fiberglass boat with a 10 horsepower motor for a trip on the lake. She notified authorities Monday night that they had failed to return.

Ronnie's body was found 1½ miles north of Cave Rock on the Nevada side of the lake two miles off shore. Search boats were hampered by wind and rough waves.

The Junker brothers were the sons of the late Ralph E. Junker, former head of an Oakland detective agency, who died last year.

The Selix boy has two brothers, Glenwood, 16; Donald, 9, and a sister, Rosetta, 12.

Bus Schedule Reduction May Hike Other Expenses

Cuts in school bus schedules to save expenses may mean that other county expenditures will go up.

County Administrator D. M. Teeter said yesterday that the reduction of bus service may mean that taxpayers will have to pay more for highway repairs, sidewalk construction and additional crossing guards.

Teeter has received a number of requests for guards to help children going to and from school to cross busy highways, and that in most cases the youngsters were carried in buses last year.

A school crossing committee was appointed by supervisors to review requests for crossing guards and recommend action to supervisors.

Represented on the committee are the county administrator, county superintendent of schools, PTA, County Taxpayers Association, the Highway Patrol, and the Board of Supervisors.

Highway Group Says Not Enough Money Allocated

Diablo Highway Improvement Association members believe that the Contra Costa supervisors did not make "adequate provision for a capital improvement program for county roads" in its 1958-59 budget.

In a meeting last Friday, they officially expressed regrets that the supervisors didn't provide adequate funds ". . for annual capital outlay and rights of way acquisitions at least as great as in last year's budget."

Harold E. Mutnick, board chairman, said, "The Board felt that any county budget which failed to provide such funds was really not economizing in the long run, in the light of the great road needs in keeping with the growth of the county.

"It was the view of the Board that any future County Road Bond Issue should not be a substitute for, but rather be supplemented by, an annual capital outlay program for improved and new county roads, over and above the annual budget for road repair and maintenance," he added.

Mutnick said, "The Federation has asked the California State Highway Commission to reserve time for the appearance of its delegation before the Commission's annual hearing, in Sacramento, this month, concerning the ensuing year's budget for state highway construction.

"It was determined by the Board to present to the State Commission the urgent road needs of Central Contra Costa, and to urge that highest priority be given to the Second Broadway Tunnel, together with the Grove-Shafter Freeway in Oakland, the Danville Freeway south from Walnut Creek, and the extension of the Monument Freeway northward toward Concord and Martinez."

Eight Deputies Are Transferred

Eight deputies in the patrol division have been ordered transferred by Sheriff Harry A. Brown, who called his action "routine."

Clifford Clark and Archie Nottingham were transferred from Martinez to Lafayette substation; John Scott from Lafayette to Richmond; John Waldeck from Lafayette to Oakley; Charter Arendtson and Marvin Dickenson from Oakland to Martinez headquarters; Evo Chiracia from Oakley to Marsh Creek Prison Farm; Lionel Shepherd from Richmond to Oakley.

Key System Fares up 5c

Key System bus fares will go up five cents September 12.

Authorization for the increase was granted this week by the State Public Utilities Commission.

Single zone fares will go from the current 20 cents to 25 cents, or five tokens for $1.

Two zone rides go from 30 to 35 cents cash, or a token and 10 cents; three zone rides from 35 to 40 cents, or a token and 15 cents.

Fares for school children's multiple ride tickets will go from 8½ cents to 10 cents a ride.

D. K. Lippincott, Radio-TV Pioneer, Claimed by Death

Funeral services for Donald K. Lippincott, 68, a pioneer in electronics and in patent procedure in that field, were held Tuesday in the Gothic Chapel at Mountain View Cemetery.

Mr. Lippincott, who died of a heart attack Friday at his home at 56 La Cuesta, helped develop the X-ray, radio, radar, color television, and the method of licensing patents covering all those fields.

HE HELD an electrical engineer's degree from the University of California, and law degrees from Hastings and George Washington University.

From 1914 to 1927 Mr. Lippincott worked on the development of X-ray and diathermy equipment in Los Angeles.

During World War 11 he worked for the Reber Laboratory in San Francisco on high-power X-ray equipment and on sonar equipment.

He was credited with developing, as chief radio engineer for the Magnavox Corporation in Oakland, the first single dial radio tuning equipment.

AFTER BEGINNING practice as a patent attorney in San Francisco in 1927, his achievements included the development of cross-licensing of patents by American, British, and German manufacturers, and a licensing system for the US Signal Corps.

He began active duty as a major in the Signal Corps in its research and development division in Washington, D.C., in 1941, and had become a colonel in 1945.

As an advisor, he served on many industrial and military boards, and helped acquire 167 electrical patent licenses for the US Government.

His work won him an award of the Legion of Merit.

After his service in Washington, he did special patent work in Chicago before returning to private practice in 1946 in San Francisco, where he later formed the firm of Lippincott, Smith and Ralls.

Recently he had been working on microwave developments and the late Dr. E. O. Lawrence's color TV tube.

Mr. Lippincott was a member of the Patent Law Association, the Institute of Radio Engineers, Institute of Electrical Engineers, Pacific Radio Trade Association, Engineers Club of San Francisco, California Historical Society, Orinda Country Club, and the Union League Club of Chicago.

His survivors include his wife, Ruth; a brother, Roy, of Los Angeles, and a half-brother, Jack Northrup. Santa Barbara.

Contractors Hold Home Theme Contest

Jack Eyman, Lafayette, announced today that a fast-moving program liberally sprinkled with entertainment features is shaping up for the Women's Conference on Housing, which will be held in Washington, D.C., October 14 to 16.

Jack Eyman is the President of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County which is sponsoring a contest to select a delegate from this area to the conference.

The three-day parley will bring to Washington about 100 women from all parts of the country to discuss their house problems and reveal what they think can be done to improve their homes.

Eyman said there is wide interest in this area in the conference. His association's essay contest, on "What Want in My New Home," has attracted a large number of participants.

They are also answering a questionnaire which gives them an additional opportunity to express their opinions on house details.

Eyman said that all the data assembled will go to home builders and allied industries for their guidance in producing what is wanted by the best judges of houses — the women who live in them.

Questionnaires and the rules governing the essay contest are to be available at the Homes on Display during National Home Week, September 6-14, 1958, of the members of the members of the Association, Eyman stated.

Ribbon-Snipping to Mark Conclusion of Project

The 1.2 mile, $900,000 Orinda Village Bypass will be officially opened September 17, the Department of Public Works announced yesterday.

Plans for an observance of the event were still in the formative stage.

County officials and representatives of Orinda civic organizations were expected to be on hand for a ribbon-cutting ceremony at 11 a.m., with Supervisor Mel Nielsen wielding the shears.

Ned deLaveaga, chairman in charge of the bypass opening observance for the Chamber of Commerce, said that a luncheon honoring county officials will probably be held that day, but that no definite plans have been made.

Work on the project by Frederickson and Watson Construction Company and Ransome Construction Company of Oakland, the successful bidders, began in August, 1957.

Bypass construction called for re-routing and channeling San Pablo Creek.

The new bypass extends from the Orinda Interchange to Miner Road.

School Sup't Candidates Discuss View

Duties of the county school superintendent were discussed by the two candidates for the post, Floyd I. Marchus and Ralph Harris, at a meeting of the Lafayette Citizens Committee for Education Tuesday night in Stanley School auditorium.

Chosen as new officers of the association were Richard Johnston, chairman; Weaver Simpson, vice chairman; Betty Wilson, corresponding secretary, Jean Bates, recording secretary, and Charles Nimmo, treasurer.

NEITHER MARCHUS or Harris made campaign speeches, but instead discussed ways in which the county superintendent can help schools do a better job.

"One of the superintendent's duties is to see that children in smaller districts get the same kind of opportunities as those in larger communities," said Harris, superintendent of the Sheldon School District.

"It is up to him to see that the schools not only keep pace with changes in society but to see that students know how to take their places as citizens in the community.

"MORE SHOULD be done in this county in the exchange of information on what's best in the construction of new buildings—each district shouldn't have to learn what's best by itself.

"There should be an exchange of information in every stage of school development.

"It is the county superintendent's responsibility to see that standards set by the state are enforced, and at the same time keep the schools close to the people through local autonomy.

"Something has to be done on a state-wide basis to bring more adequate financing for poorer districts."

MARCHUS TOLD the group that the Russian Sputnik has "put educators in a race which as yet has no well-defined goal. We are moving into the dilemma of whether to teach a few students exceedingly well or all students less well.

"I think that in the future citizens will demand that each child get the best education possible for him.

"This will cost more, and there will be a demand for a decrease in administrative costs and red tape."

Marchus, director of research for the county superintendent's office, said that its trend has been toward a decrease in employes and a "declining operating budget."

HE POINTED OUT that when a school district's enrollment reaches 900, certain services provided by the county are dropped, so that growth of Contra Costa County means a decline in authority on the part of the superintendent.

"So as districts grow, the superintendent can take over more leadership, stepping up the program on exchange of information, and in research that will help schools."

ANSWERING questions from the floor, both Harris and Marchus agreed that there are many advantages in unification programs for school districts.

Outgoing Chairman W. B. Scarborough presided. He reported on work of the committee in helping the Lafayette School District improve its science curriculum, and said that it will work on the mathematics curriculum during the coming year.

Nicholas Fossati reported on work of the committee in studying school sites and plans for new buildings, and its success in helping the school board obtain agreement from the architect to pay most of the cost of improving the ventilation system in the Springhill School.

Community Swim Meet Will Climax Summer Season

A big summer swimming season will be climaxed Saturday and Sunday, September 13 and 14, by the second annual Orinda community swimming meet at Park Pool on El Toyonal.

Preparations are being made fore more than 250 participants and at least 300 spectators for the two-day aquatic show, said Richard Schoner, chairman for the Junior Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the meet.

TAKING PART will be representatives of six of Orinda's swimming pools—Meadow, Sleepy Hollow, Oak Springs, Park, Moraga, and Orinda County Club pools.

All events will be at Park Pool. Trials will be held from 9 a.m. to noon Saturday, and finals from 1 to 4 p.m. Sunday.

All Orinda youngsters, whether members of community pools or not, will be eligible to take part, according to Schoner.

First, second, and third prize certificates will be awarded in each of 50 events, including different age groups and distances in free style, back strokes, breast stroke, butterfly and free style and medley relays.

Those wishing to take part may sign up at any of the six pools or at school.

Jointly sponsored by the Kiwanis Club and the Louis Store, the breakfast will be served from 7:30 a.m. to 11 a.m.

Can't Get Started with You . . .

This was the week when the Lady of the House drifted through the doldrums—went through the motions of Coming Back to Life again.

THAT IS, Life with children, plans for Brownies, Cub Scouts, meeting notices, school bus schedules . . . She braced herself to face the buying of new shoes, the dental and doctor appointments, the new lunch box, the new pencil box, the party notices, the pet charity chores, the bridge sessions, the Kaffeeklatch bores, the meeting notices and more meeting notices! Well, some of us SIMPLY aren't up to it yet, are we?

We, for one, are still in a mellow mood. And mind you, mean to keep it that way. A strange-sounding device jingles to jolt us back to reality after a good gossip on the terrace w/the blabbering bluejays. The telephone, so necessary now, but not missed at all for almost a month.

WE HATE TO GIVE UP BARE FEET, bathing suits, 10 o'clock breakfasts, picnic lunches. The summer pattern of campfire sings, insect repellent and moonlight horseback rides now gives way to high heels and hose, gloves and chapeaux, lipstick on straight, stockings on straight, powder puffs and TABU and the Social Stew!

JUST WHEN we were getting used to the Sierra dust and dirt, the spell was broken by the return home and the loading up of the washing machine. Nine times! We're STILL scrubbing the kids and wish they'd invent an automatic washer for Children. Who could stand a little agitating. Just about now a good rough-dry wouldn't hurt them a bit.

Summer cookery of salads and steaks and hamburgers (It's too hot to bother w/anything else) will give 'way to 4-hr. spaghetti sauces, Beef Stroganoff, steaming soups and bubbly casseroles. But we admit we've had Enough of the California Hamburger. In the best and worst places. From here to Idaho.

Well, anyway . . . here's to the New Season. We're prepared. Feeling 10 years younger, 10 pounds lighter and it suits us to a T. "Tea for Two and Two for Tea" . . . and there we go again, BURSTING into song. How LONG do you think it will last? Chins Up, Chums! We're in it together!

An Art Exhibit from Down Mexico Way attracted a throng of local folk last nite for its preview at the Oakland Museum of Art . . . TOMORROW looks like a Mad Merrygoround night for those who hate to miss anything. The calypso beat and bongo drums will call a large crowd to the CARIBBEAN Cocktail Party slated by Pandora Members of Children's Home Society at the Albert McCanns on Van Tassel Lane.

Or, if you really feel GONE-w/the wind, you can switch to a Southern-style cotton-picking party Cottonwood members are giving at the George Jackson menage. Which is, by the way, a far cry from ANY Old Kentucky Home. But the girls will probably do their decorating darndest to disguise it w/moustachioed old Colonels, and mint julep trimmings.

IF YOU CAN CAN-CAN, you can stroll along the Left Bank setting that Linden Branch members are making of the spacious house and grounds of the John Dorr's on Oakwood Road for "A NIGHT IN PARIS". This, tomorrow, too, w/cocktails to commence 6 'til 9, and a Parisian-styled buffet supper to tempt your palate (optional) starting around 7:30.

Ramona Smith will handle dinner reservations at CL 4-4048 or Barbara Graber at CL 4-4244. The handsome Dorr house, the scene of many a sumptuous event, will be South Seas-styled later in the month, September 26, when Guild members of the Orinda Community Church hostess an authentic HOOLAULEA. Dinner will be served poolside and the delightful diversions include a water follies and ballet, Hawaiian and Tahitian dances, Hawaiian orchestra music and vocals by popular Dolores Bernhard. For tickets to this, Ogden's in the Village, or from Barbara Wayne, Elsie Harmon, Kitty Schwarck or Verla Krotz.

Tomorrow night, too, the Orinda Democrats rally together at the Ralph Reid residence w/the James Benneys and Hank Zachariases joining forces to host a buffet supper following the earlier fun.

NICE WAY TO GET "SHANGHAIED" . . . Lombardy Members have bid friends to their annual Swim, Dance & Steak Barbecue at the Country Club via clever Joe Idelson—designed invited w/a BARBARY COAST Theme. Always well-attended, this promises to be THE PARTY for Saturday, September 13. Reservations ($12.00 per couple) may be made by calling Joan Kendall, CL 4-2604, and party chairman will be BEE Comerford. The aforementioned Joan is also the one to call if you're interested in Lombardy's popular Bridge Series ($10.00) commencing AGAIN September 15 at Orinda Community Church under the skillful style of Mrs. Files. Nice idea for Newcomers—or non-bridge players who want to learn!

A COUPLE OF KIDS WE KNOW celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary mid-month w/a cocktail party and a torrential rain of toasts . . . Others bestowing hearts & flowers by the hours on the well-known decorating duo were Joe's parents, the senior Joseph Downs as well as his sister Mrs. Michael Flynn who all flew in from Palm Springs for the festivities.

Paul & Carol Ammen had a long hot summer, Sierra-camping, then to Buckingham Park at Clear Lake & a more recent holiday at "Harbor House" which is near Fort Bragg at Elk, & owned & operated in a most charming manner by the same proprietors of the famed "Heritage House". An active League of Women Voters member, Carol is currently lining up members for the one-day campaign for funds slated for September 17, a VERY deserving cause.

A HEARTWARM THANKS via this column from ALL the Alta Vista residents to the many good people who contributed to the HELPING HAND Fund—as well as to the many more who've offered help & heart & friendship in other ways too. The Stan Swansons & the Hightower family have bought land together near Charles Hill & are already embarked on their new homes, quite a sizable undertaking. Good luck, all of you—who came SMILING THROUGH! Now if we could have an old-fashioned barn-raising w/a contemporary pre-fab job, that WOULD be the ticket!

Exclusion From 2-County Transit To Be Decided

The Alameda - Contra Costa Transit District board will hold a hearing Wednesday on a petition for exclusion of lands in the northeastern part of Contra Costa County from the district.

This is a necessary preliminary to a decision by the board to submit to the district residents a $16,900,000 bond issue for the purchase of Key System equipment and new equipment. The bond issue would go before the voters in November.

ALAMEDA - CONTRA COSTA TRANSIT DISTRICT — ACT

THIS IS THE OFFICIAL emblem adopted by the Board of Directors of the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District. The letters "ACT" in center of the circle stand for the two counties of the District plus the word "transit." The "C" is split to represent the two beginning letters of Contra Costa. Colors of the emblem, which was designed to convey a sense of motion and speed, will be decided later.

Bob Roberts Helps Blind Church in Austrian Town

Bob Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Roberts, 739 Los Palos Drive, Lafayette, returned home last week after participating in a Methodist Church work project of helping to build a church in Ried, Austria.

Bob, a senior at Stanford, was with a group of 35 students, all juniors or seniors in colleges throughout the United States, who helped in this project.

After crossing the Atlantic by ship, the group traveled through Holland, Belgium, and Germany to reach Ried.

In letters home to his parents, Bob wrote, "Ried itself is a primitive little town about the size of Lafayette. The main part of town is quite compact and picturesque. Other than a few plate glass windows and modest signs advertising a store's name, there are no outward signs of commercialization.

The streets are cobblestone. The people are the really amazing factor. All are quite friendly as everywhere you go, everyone you see bids you good morning—in German, of course.

We are staying in the Hungarian refugee barracks which are just outside of town. They were originally built to house German prisoners of war in 1939. The electric fence and guard houses still remain. Consequently they are quite shabby and rundown.

The people are mostly elderly folks and kids, all those who are unable to immigrate into different countries."

After the completion of their work, the group visited Vienna, Salzburg, and other Austrian towns. In Linz they attended the opening of a Methodist home for Hungarian refugee boys.

One School System, Or Many? What's The Answer

What school does your child attend? What school district is responsible for his education, and is it the same school district from the time he enters kindergarten to the time he graduates from high school?

If you live in Pleasant Hill, the answer to the second question is "yes" because he attends a school which is in a unified school district.

If you live in Walnut Creek, Alamo, Lafayette, Moraga or Orinda, the answer is no, because each community has its own elementary district and is served by a separate high school district.

A STUDY OF these latter communities is presently being carried out by Dr. Jack Shahbazian, a resident of Danville, at the request of the Acalanes High School Board.

He is preparing a report, with the help of officials of the elementary districts and a private committee, to determine the comparative advantages and disadvantages of one large unified school district as against several small districts, as now exist.

This report will be released "in the near future," although no specific date has been set.

What do you think about this question? Have you ever considered it. All the facts are not available at the moment, but when they are compiled they should make some pretty interesting reading.

ONE COMPARISON we can make is between the separate tax rates for the fiscal year of 1957-58. The total school taxes paid by a resident of Lafayette were $3.96 — $2.213 for elementary and $1.750 per $100 assessed valuation to the Acalanes High School District.

This total $3.96 rate compares to the Mount Diablo Unified School District rate of $3.00 per $100 assesed valuation.

In Orinda the total rate was $3.90, the high school rate being the same and the elementary rate being $2.155. In Walnut Creek the elementary rate was $1.50 and the total was $3.25.

So the tax rate in the unified school system was lower than that anywhere else.

But this does not necessarily mean that what's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander. What has worked well for the Mt. Diablo District might not work as well for Lafayette, Orinda, Walnut Creek and our other communities.

IT IS OBVIOUS that certain savings can be made on purchasing and equipment, because one large district does not dup licateas several smaller districts might.

On the other hand, the larger the organization the more "sloppy" is it likely to be . . . and this can be expensive, too.

The report, now being prepared by Dr. Shahbazian, should give us the answers to these questions.

In the meantime, we should all be aware that this report is being compiled, and we should start giving the situation some thought, if we have not done so already.

It is worthy of study, certainly, and will bear extensive investigation in the future.

Is unification of our smaller districts the answer, or part of the answer, to the high cost of educating our children?

We don't know, but we shall certainly find out.

Letters to The Editor

DEATH OF A CAT

DEAR EDITOR:

Don't people know it is against the law to hit animals and let them lie injured without rendering aid? Of course they also have a moral obligation, but if their conscience doesn't bother them in rendering pain to God's creatures they need to be reminded of the law against cruelty to animals.

A precious lovable Persian was struck and left to die by someone coming around a double curve too fast to give her time to get across the road. If anyone saw the car that struck Miss Betsy please contact me at OL 2-9788. It was just beyond 6145 Estates Drive, Oakland, between McAndrews and La Salle Avenues and was the loving pet of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Sargent.

A loved Siamese that was placed by Pets & Pals with the Raymond Fisher family of 1039 92nd Avenue, Oakland, was struck by a car that didn't stop; the Siamese was paralyzed and had to be put to sleep. Any information to this car would also be appreciated; the owners are heartbroken, including the children.

Sometimes striking an animal can't be helped, but it is no excuse not to stop and render aid and try to find the owners. In both of the above cases the cats were almost in front of their own homes. How would these people like to lie helpless and suffering.

May I also say the callous attitude of the State Fish and Game Department in allowing the shooting of antlerless deer is unspeakably cruel as others have stated.

Until humans have compassion for all livings things we will have wars and more and more murders and other law violations—when will we learn???

Yours very truly,

GLAD SARGENT

When Newspaper Editors Stand Up to be Counted

By Herman Silverman

I've never resorted to plagarism before (or at least not often), but today I find the temptation too great. Wife Eleanor has been working for weeks, doing research for a speech for the Lions Club—a speech on the courageous stands editors are taking throughout the nation. So here goes into the notes and quotations she has gleaned from a big pile of books:

History is being made in Little Rock, Arkansas, where the courageous newspaper, "The Arkansas Gazette," is helping to shape the course of history. Here in the south, Editor Harry Ashmore consistantly rebukes mob action and demands respect for law and constitutional processes. As Editor Ashmore wrote when the fight began, "This is where people stand up to be counted."

The editor answers to many

J. N. Heiskell, president of the Arkansas Gazette, said: "The man who is responsible for the destiny of a newspaper must make daily accounting to his community and to his own conscience, and when at last he has written the complete record of his service he must make final account.

He cannot use for measurement the money he has made or the size of his circulation or the volume of advertising. It is as if he entered a tribunal staffed by judges, stern in judgment but just and righteous and tolerant within the bounds of duty and conscience. Then the question will be whether he has been faithful to his obligation to serve his community and serve mankind or whether he must be adjudged guilty of betrayal of his high mission and his great opportunity.

"If he keeps the faith he will fight a good fight and he will finish his course."

With this type of editorship, it is no wonder that the unprecedented award of two Pulitzer Prizes in Journalism went to the "Arkansas Gazette" and to its editor, Harry Ashmore.

Another fearless editor

Another modern editorial fighter, C. P. Scott of the Manchester Guardian, provides an example of fearlessness. His biographer, C. E. Montague, wrote:

"Physically, morally, and intellectually he seemed to have an absolute incapacity for any sort of trepidation. With an angry mob howling around him, he never showed a trace of agitation; he did not even seem to have any apprehensions to control. This innate fearlessness and a faculty for complete absorption in certian ideas and causes greatly lightened for him the burden of making critical decisions. He weighted conflicting considerations slowly . . . but, when once he had formed a judgment, gave no backward glances of doubt, and threw off easily any anxiety about the secondary consequences of his choice."

Sometimes the power of crusading newspapers is overrated. Newspapers are not elected to govern nor should they assume this function. The relative impotence of the press in politics is evidenced by the fact that in five successive presidential elections its advice was ignored by the voters and in the sixth and seventh it was accepted—but the candidate for president was a national hero.

The power of publicity

It was not "government by newspaper" that Joseph Pulitzer had in mind when he said:

"We are a democracy, and there is only one way to get a democracy on its feet in the matter of its individual, its social, its municipal, its national conduct, and that is by keeping the public informed about what is going on. There is not a crime, there is not a dodge, there is not a trick, there is not a swindle, there is not a vice which does not thrive on secrecy. Get these things out in the open, describe them, attack them, ridicule them in the press, and sooner or later public opinion will sweep them away. Publicity may not be the only thing that is needed, but it is the one thing without which all other agencies will fall."

Some of the courageous actions of these editors is bound to rub off on all of us. Let's hope that whenever the need arises, we will be ready as newspapers and individuals and civic groups to get the job done.

Lotteries And The Mails

By BILL HINES

Uncle Sam frowns on lotteries.

The Post Office Department, by law, refuses to accept for mailing any material concerning lotteries. This concerns us, of course, for this newspaper goes through the mail.

The other day I deleted from a story a reference to the fact that at a benefit party a door prize would be given. I wasn't sure whether or not I was right in crossing it out.

At hand now is a single-spaced, six-page manuscript issued by the Post Office's general counsel, entitled, "Elements of a Lottery."

I've just read it. And I'm still not sure I was right about crossing out that door prize reference. But I'm pretty sure.

If there was an admission charge—if tickets were sold or dues paid—it was a lottery, and the postoffice could refuse to accept a newspaper containing either an advertisement or story about it.

"Courts have defined a lottery as a scheme wherein something of value is exacted from participants for the chance of winning a prize, and thus you have the three necesasry elements, consideration, chance, and prize," says the Post Office dope-sheet.

If you have to buy something in order to compete, and the winner is decided by chance, it's a lottery.

This is why that phrase, "reasonable facsimile" keeps bobbing up in advertising literature.

Many contests which involve the awarding of prizes by chance, usually by guessing, require entries to be accompanied with box tops or other evidence of having purchased the promoter's product," the Post Office explains, pointing out that such contests are lotteries.

"Usually, however, the contestants are permitted to substitute reasonable facsimilies of such box tops, labels, entry blanks or other similar prerequisites to competition. If such facsimilies are easily made, the scheme may not fall within the purview of the postal lottery laws."

It doesn't help the newspaper to omit details of the contest. Bingo, of course, is a lottery, and an announcement or advertisement of such a game simply by means of such a word as "Party" or "Games" or "Big Game Wednesday Night" means it cannot be accepted for mailing.

The courts have ruled that while guessing the number of beans in a bottle is a matter of chance, writing the "best letter" or "best slogan" calls for skill, and that the latter contests are not objectionable to the Post Office.

However, the operator of the contest must provide that in case of ties identical prizes must be awarded tying contestants. Otherwise, it's a matter of chance as to who gets the prize.

But whether chance or skill determines who catches the biggest fish is a question the Post Office no longer has to worry about.

Congress has amended the postal lottery law so that it specifically exempts "any fishing contest not conducted for profit wherein prizes are awarded for the specie, size, weight, or quality of fish caught by contestants."

"It should be noted," the guide to how the Post Office feels about lotteries remarks sternly, "that the postal lottery laws provide for no exceptions in favor of lotteries which are conducted for worthy causes, or which might be regarded as merely "a little raffle."

Diablo Valley Crusade to Kickoff on September 22

United Crusade volunteer community leaders recently presented progress reports on efforts to insure a successful campaign to raise $65,623 in Diablo Valley.

September 22 is the kickoff date. Bruce Copeland of Pleasant Hill, Diablo Valley Campaign chairman, conducted the meeting.

Hal Cheney, chairman, County Public Relations Committee, was guest speaker.

HE TOLD the community leaders, "This year the Crusade is facing the acid test. In unifying many drives into one, the economic factor is of prime concern. We are justly proud of the nominal 8.9 percent campaign and administrative costs the year round.

"The alternative is returning to 56 separate drives in the county with the tremendous cost of individual campaigning. This is of course too dreadful to imagine."

"I believe this is a challenge to all of us regarding the real progress the United Bay Area Crusade and the Contra Costa United Crusade has made to date. To me personally, the magnitude of the drive is very invigorating."

A training and documentary film was shown. Progress reports were given by the following community leaders: Bill Smikahl and Herb Miller, chairman and co-chairman of Walnut Creek; Jack Pedder, Central Contra Costa Coordinator; Douglas Cowan, co-chairman Diablo Valley; John Lubbers and Ted Winslow, chairman and co-chairman Pleasant Hill community.

JOE EVANS AND Mrs. Frank Malley, chairman and co-chairman Lafayette; and Jack Kerstetter, Diablo Valley Public Relations chairman.

Others were Paul Tickner, Commerce and Industry chairman for Diablo Valley; John Price, assisting in Commerce and Industry and YMCA executive; Bob Schroder, Mt. Diablo Chapter of Red Cross and Business Division Walnut Creek; Joe Bell, Salvation Army executive and co-chairman of Walnut Creek district business.

Others are Mrs. Whitney Fraser, Pleasant Hill chairman Residential Division; and Mesdames Beth Watts, William Hansen, E. Butterfield, R. Dowell, Sidney Petersen and B. Watson, Residential Division chairmen for Pleasant Hill.

Other campaign leaders are John Longacre, Orinda Advance Gifts; Bob Gemetti, vice chairman Orinda Community; J. Doyle, Public Employees Orinda; Arthur Robson, District Business Lafayette; Mrs. J. Dunn, Residential Lafayette; Ted Collins, Lafayette Elementary Schools; Julian Ramelli, co-chairman District Business Walnut Creek.

Mrs. Fink Is Candidate For Queen Title at Ball

Mrs. David E. Fink, nee Patricia Joy Donogh, of Lafayette, a member of Laurel Junior Branch and widely known by fashion show devotees as one of the most accomplished and beautiful models in the Bay Area, has been named as a candidate for "Queen of the Pacific" at the Children's Hospital of the East Bay's annual Flower Headdress Ball, planned for Saturday, October 25, at the Hotel Claremont in Berkeley.

The daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Donogh of Richmond, Mrs. Fink began her modeling career at the University of California where her Chi Omega sorority sisters selected her to represent them at the University's selection of its Maid of Cotton candidate. Mrs. Fink won the statewide contest to become California's 1950 Maid of Cotton, and went on to represent her state in the national finals at Memphis.

FOLLOWING HER graduation in 1950 from U. C., where she majored in decorative arts and education, she married David E. Fink, now personnel manager in the Industrial Relations Department of Continental Can Company.

She resides with her husband and two sons, 5½-year-old Bruce and 3-year-old Larry, at 3325 Mildred Lane in Lafayette.

Mrs. Fink's modeling "credits" include television, newsreels, local and national fashion photographs and advertisements, manufacturers' and hotel luncheon shows, and more recently, coordinating and commentating.

SHE ALSO has taught dancing to Orinda, Lafayette and Walnut Creek children at her studio, Patricia's School of Dance in Lafayette. She is a member of the Cecchetti Council of America and Dance Masters of America.

Mrs. Fink has Mrs. Walter B. Snow, Jr., as her campaign manager.

Climax to the campaign will be a party honoring all the queen candidates on Tuesday evening, October 21, at the Hotel Claremont, just five days before the ball, which this year is to be a "Pageant of the Pacific."

THE CANDIDATE receiving the most votes — votes are being bought at 10c apiece with all money from vote sales to benefit the hospital—will be crowned at spectacular coronation rites the night of the ball, held each year as a benefit for Children's Hospital of the East Bay's charitable program of part-pay assistance for needy children.

Persons interested in buying votes may secure them from members of the sponsoring branch.

Living Drama Is Part-Time Course Offered

"Living Drama," a "part-time" course planned to give a student a background in drama and theater to increase his understanding and enjoyment, will be offered on Monday evenings this fall at Diablo Valley College, Concord.

Mrs. Bess Whitecomb, drama instructor at the college, will teach the course. "Classwork will consist of seeing, listening to, reading, and discussing plays, as well as discussing various elements of theatrical production."

Mrs. Whitcomb, before joining the college faculty, held many positions with civic and little theater groups, among them being assistant managing director, Municipal Theater, San Francisco; State Director of Federal Theater for Oregon; head of the Portland Civic Theater School; and director, Tucson Little Theater.

Two years ago she was selected to direct two graduate plays for the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York City.

Registration for classes in the program for part-time students will be conducted at Diablo Valley College today from 7:00 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. for former students and 9 a.m. to 12 noon, tomorrow for new students.

Information concerning "living Drama" and other classes offered, their meeting times, registration and other such items are included in a brochure entitled "Classes for Part-Time Students."

Copies are sent to those who are on the college mailing list. Others may receive copies by calling the college.

Art Association Classes to Begin

The Co-operative Art Association will begin its after-school art classes for fourth, fifth and sixth grade children the week of September 15-19. There are 11 classes again this year, one at each of the Lafayette Elementary Schools and five classse in Walnut Creek.

A special meting of all mothers and anyone interested will be held in the Lafayette School Auditorium from 10 to 11 a.m. on Wednesday, September 10 when the classes, organizaiton, plans and exhibit will be explained and any questions answered. Mrs. Mel Cecchini is president, Mrs. A. R. Holland is director of classes.

Each class has a membership chairman who can be contacted for specific information on whether the class is full. Fees are $10 a year if the mother co-operates, either as a chairman or by helping hand out supplies and cleaning up after class; $15 a year for sponsors, and $5 a year for brothers and sisters.

This includes all art supplies and the mother is automatically a member. Paid members receive notices of the monthly meetings held the third Wednesday of each month, October through May.

Country Club Fall Season Opens with Dinner Dance

The fall season at Orinda Country Club will open tomorrow with a steak barbecue dinner dance at the poolside, with younger members of the club entertaining with an aquacade.

Reservations have been made by more than 400.

Tables for individual parties will be set up around the pool. The buffet table will be beneath the redwood trees at the end of the pool.

Regular bridge luncheons will begin at the pool in October. They are held on the third Wednesday of each month, and the first this fall is scheduled for October 15. Mrs. Charles Thomsen is chairman for the luncheons.

Also in October will be one of the three big parties given each year for the club's teenagers.

The party, a supper dance, will be held October 24. Mr. and Mrs. Howard F. Gardner will be in charge.

The annual President's Ball, usually held in October, will be held in February instead because so many of the club's directors plan to go duck hunting in October.

Honored guest at the ball will be Donald E. Doten, the club's president.

Many events have been scheduled at the clubhouse by either groups.

On September 13 Lombardy Branch of the Children's Hospital will hold a dinner dance as a benefit for the hospital.

Another benefit dance is the one planned by Pine Branch for September 30.

Hill 'n' Dale, a dance group, will hold its first fall party at the club on October 4.

A benefit show is booked there for October 1, and Linden Branch of the Chilren's Hospital will hold a luncheon at the club October 22.

Preview Party to Precede Valley Art Center Show

Vewing the many selected and representative paintings, sculpture, ceramics, and mosaics of west coast artists, which will be shown at the tenth annual Art Show September 13 and 14, the general membership and contributing artists will meet for a delightful "Preview Party" on Friday, September 12, 8:30 p.m., at the scene of the exhibit, Orchard Nursery in Lafayette.

With special emphasis on meeting the artist and getting acquainted within the group, the party should serve as a proper introduction to what promises to be the most challenging exhibit for this group.

In the 10 year history of Valley Art Center, each season has shown growth and widening scope in presenting the artist to the community and opening doors to a better understanding of new art expressions.

The exhibition pieces are shown in the Annual Show by invitation only. There is a purchase prize to be given by Valley Art Center; its purpose, to add to its permanent collection. There is increased interest in this project as the reality of a permanent art center located in the heart of Lafayette becomes more than a possibility. It would fulfill a community need and enrich our environs culturally.

The exhibition committee composed of Messrs. and Mesdames Howard Converse, William Wilkerson, Frank Mansfield, Robert Love, Parker Stack, Mesdames Richard Boaz, Burchard Styles, Burton Brody, Charles Bishop, and Miss Ann Gerald, have been responsible principally for planning of the show. They will act jointly as hosts and hostesses, with the Valley Art Center Board of Directors. The directors are Messrs. Richard Ward, Glen Max, Julian Stein, Mesdames Richard Johnston, Rawlings Simon, Jack Martsolf, Parker Stack, Charles Bishop, and Robert Love, and Mrs. Helen MacFarlane.

The guests at the preview party will be served sandwiches and coffee by the active group within Valley Art Center who make up the social committee. With about 40 members on this committee, much of the success of the exhibits, lectures, and activities of Valley Art Center is due to the hard work and clever ideas contributed by its members. They are headed by Mrs. Richard Ward.

The three-day Tenth Annual Show will be open to the public on September 13 and 14 from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. at Orchard Nursery, Lafayette. It will climax and conclude the exhibiting schedule of 1958 for Valley Art Center.

Jewel Plans For Drive

A formal kickoff of Howard H. Jewel's campaign for U. S. Representative in Congress from the Sixth District will be held tomorrow with a reception in his home town, Orinda.

Workers from both Solano and Contra Costa Counties will attend the session at which campaign plans will be outlined in detail.

Jewel, 34-year-old attorney and former assistant public defender, received the Democratic nomination for Congress June 3 with a total of over 61,000 votes, the highest total ever received by a Democrat in a Sixth District primary election.

The reception will be held at the Ralph Reid home in Orinda from 5 to 7 p.m. with arrangements by the Orinda Democratic Club.

Jewel said he will continue to challenge his Republican opponent to campaign on the major issues facing America — foreign policy, high prices, labor's collective bargaining rights.

"My opponent, as the Republican, and I, as the Democrat, owe it to the voters to state clearly and openly where we stand on policies of the Administration in Washington and on the platforms of our respective parties," Jewel said.

New 'Retarded' Class Will Open at Shadelands Ranch

With the opening of new classes in the Concord area this fall, the Contra Costa County special training program for severely mentally retarded children will become county-wide, said Coordinator Harlan H. Lewis today.

As operated by the office of County Superintendent B.O. Wilson, the program has training centers in Concord, Richmond and Antioch. The latter two were instituted last year.

The new center, explained Lewis, is located at the Shadelands Ranch House on Ygnacio Valley Road.

"A MAXIMUM DOZEN children from the Central Contra Costa area will be admitted upon application to the school district of residence, plus a careful screening by medical and psychological examiners and approval by and admissions committee."

Children may enroll from the central county region, with the exception of the area of Mt. Diablo Unified, which alone of the districts in the county operates its own class for severely mentally retarded. The new center is located within the area because of the availability of housing and of the central position, Lewis added.

Mrs. Magnolia Vallery will teach, assisted by Mrs. Evelyn Patterson. The school will be known as Contra Costa County Special Training Center No. 2.

Other personnel conducting the county severely mentally retarded program are as follows:

Contra Costa County Special Training Center No. 1, located at 4932 Jefferson Avenue, Richmond. The center will be expanded to enroll 48 children from the school districts of West Contra Costa.

County Seeks 'Key Puncher'

Contra Costa County announced today that the Civil Service Commission is currently accepting applications for Key Punch Operator, $300-$360 per month.

Required is graduation from high school, six months experience in operating a key punch machine, completion of an I.B.M. key punch operators training course or, one year experience in operating a key punch machine.

Latin-American Confab Planned By Organization

The sixth annual Latin American Conference will be held at Saint Mary's College on Saturday, September 20.

Under the direction of John F. Henning, past president of the Saint Mary's College Alumni Association and research director of the California State Federation of Labor, the event will attract some 200 Spanish-speaking people from in and around the bay area.

Delivering the opening address to the delegates will be the Reverend Mark J. Hurley, who will speak on the heritage and responsibilities of residents of the United States.

Other features on the all-day program will include student meetings, an art workshop, exhibits and lectures, as well as the annual meeting of the Guadalupe Societies of the Archdiocese of San Francisco.

The Latin American Conference is sponsored annually by the Saint Mary's College Alumni Association, in the interests of better understanding of social, cultural and economic problems of Latin Americans in California and to assist them in adjustment to life in their new country.

Piedmont High Varsity Tabbed as Team to Beat

The Piedmont High varsity football eleven make their debut i the Foothill Division of the D. V A. L. come October 17 after they get four practice tilts tucked under their belts.

They play host to Fremont September 19, Oakland High September 19, Oakland High September 26, El Cerrito October 3, and Alhambra High October 10 to round out their practice schedule.

PRE-SEASON dope set them up as the club to beat in the newly-formed league and the opening day's practice has only increased their status.

Two-a-day drills have been in order with 20-minute blocking and tackling practice sessions the order of the day.

Head Mentor Bob Muenther reports his squad as one with lots of drive and the poise of veterans with defensive play receiving number one rating.

Biggest player in the five-man squad is Steve Wilcox, senior quarterback, who tips the scale at 197 and stands 6 feet 2½ inches.

RATED AS ONE of the Alameda County's best last year, he is figured to give the opposition trouble with his ball handling and sharp passing.

Muenther states that his first unit is rugged but the problem is one of depth although he did come up with a good looking transfer in Ned Woods, a 165-pounder currently playing fullback, but a switch may send him to a guard spot due to his fine blocking.

The Piedmont Highlanders tentative first eleven: Mike Miller (164), left end; Buzz Redford (179), left tackle; George Conns (200) or Covey McKnight (180), left guard; Paul Parkhurst (175) or Don Howard (215), center; John Austin (150) or John McDonald (155), right guard; Ken Ambrose (195), right tackle; Jim Taggert (180), right end; Kevin Hogan (166) or Chip Miles (150), right half; John Griffith (172) or Gary Heiner (75) left half; Steve Wilcox, quarterback; Doug McVean (175), fullback.

WHO ARE WE?

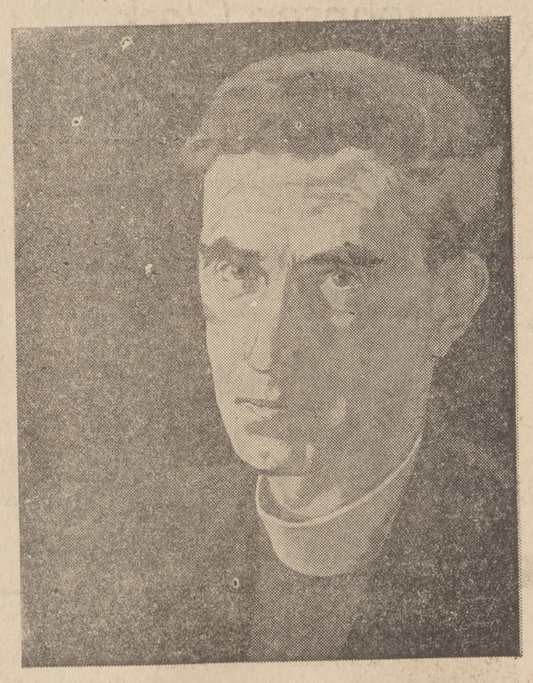
My wife and I operate our neighborhood drugstore. My business, my security and my children's education are locked with the general prosperity of the working people who patronize me. If the so-called "right-to-work" thing is voted in, I feel we'll be booted down to the economic level of those "cheap labor" Southern states who already have this kind of law.

As a housewife I know the happiness of myself, my children and my husband depend largely on his security and earning power. I'm going to vote NO on Proposition 18 because I believe that men and a community "pulling together" for economic security have a better life than they do by "pulling alone."

I'm a machinist – so was my Father and Grandfather "Gramps" was a guild member in Belgium before he left there in 1883 to come to the States. My Dad worked for 31¢ an hour back in the early 1930's. If he got sick he didn't get paid and neither did the doctor, butcher, grocer, landlord or anyone else for a long time. I'm a "scared" machinist because I think if this 'no workers' rights' proposition 18 goes through, I'll be no better off than my Father was thirty years ago.



*My church is just around the corner. I've been the pastor for many years. I feel these poorly named 'right-to-work' laws are a conspiracy of crafty, ignorant or misguided people who seek to subvert industrial peace; exploit men's need to work and deluge our community with industrial irresponsibility. 'Right-to-work' laws do not create jobs; they only victimize the worker and make his organization ineffective.

Hardtop Highlights

By JEAN McGUIRE

A crowd of 3,500 fans watched Johnny Franklin of Santa Rosa emerge the victorious one in the big 100-lap race at Contra Costa Speedway Saturday night.

This marked the sixth main event taken by Franklin. Hugh Purdy however, made it plenty rough for him first.

THE SANTA ROSA Ace led the pack for 40 of the 100 before a leaking radiator forced him out in the 77th lap. Vallejo's Bill Maher took second place, with Wally Baker of Sacramento third.

It's interesting to note, that while Franklin is a driver to be reckoned with, he was not expected to win the big race. The popular feeling running toward either Purdy or Baker.

JACK CLAYTON of Pleasant Hill alternated between fourth and fifth positions until the 75th lap when his wheel hub split open and he was forced to drop back and stroke out the remainder of the race.

Clayton returned his "Big 88" to the track after a two weeks absence, and really "Come on like Gangbuster's," winning the fourth heat and the Trophy Dash as well. He was awarded a beautiful trophy which, as we understand it, is his first.

Concord's Doe Payne driving his Dyas Brothers Special number 36, took second in the fourth heat and the trophy dash. The good luck didn't hold out though. Doe drove 50 laps of the main event, after which his brother Hugh Payne took over. (In a hundred lap race a relief driver may be substituted.)

HUGH WAS DOING beautifully until he was hit and spun crosswise on the track. The whole pack was right behind, and unable to stop they slammed into him car by car, making the biggest pile up that pit turn has seen in many a day.

Drivers involved in the wreck were Wally Baker, Nelson Snow, Lloyd Silacci, Bill Maher, Gene Dudley and PeeWee Waybright.

Cliff Bennett of Pacheco is another area lad that showed us a neat job of driving. Cliff came in fifth in the third heat, and made a really fine appearance in the main. A relief driver took over his number 25 late in the race however, and ploughed through the fence on the far turn.

ROLAND LOCKMORE of Concord, driving number 62 was involved in a bad smash-up in the first heat. Lockmore was just completing the pit turn when he was hit, spun around, and finally flipped over to come to rest on the car top.

He was shaken up but uninjured. Lockmore has driven midgets for about five years and just recently switched to hardtops.

See you at the races tomorrow night. The program carries the regular 25-lap main event. Time trials at 7, first race at 8:15.

Rams Face Problem of Rebuilding

Coach Hal Briggs of the Pleasant Hill Rams is singing anything but the blues these days despite the fact his present 47-man squad has but two seniors in quarterback Bill Locatelli and halfback Roger Leonard.

Coach Briggs, in commenting on his squad, refused to come up with even a tentative first team.

HIS WORDS were: "It's going to be a mighty interesting season —lots of speed—wonderful attitude—these kids want to play, and on top of that—there are only two seniors!"

The Rams turned into a rough club last season—in fact they came within seconds of upsetting the champion Pittsburg eleven and the crew appears to have retained the desire so important to a winning club.

The Rams open with San Ramon at Danville on September 19. The San Ramon team met the Rams at their best last season and were racked up in a series of touchdown runs that found the Rams as hot as the proverbial Fourth of July firecracker.

San Ramon, loaded with veterans, will be out to settle the score, and this one could be one of, if not the, best of the openers in the newly-created Foothill Division.

Ram Players and their positions, along with weights, are as follows:

Quarterbacks, Dave Sheppard (175), Bill Locatelli (168), Jim Maes (161).

Halfbacks, Roger Leonard (163), Tom Webb (137), Sid Quick (136), Pete McMillan (171), Bill Chappel (164), George Carter (170), Clarence Metcalf (175).

Fullbacks, Roger Foulk (188), Ron Kirby (195).

Ends, Bob Stice (170), Art Patch (170), Peter Jacobsen (165), Steve Ipsen (170).

Tackles, Walt Dathe (195), Mike Ryan (195), Larry Sutten (187), Terry Sutten (185).

Guards, George Adams (190), Lyn Freels (165), Doug E. Raunius (185), Mike Erickson (170), Dan O'Brien (155).

Orioles to Meet At Berry Home

Members of the Orinda Orioles Unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center will resume activities with a regular noon meeting on Wednesday at the Lombardy Lane residence of Vera Berry.

A fun party for Orioles and their husbands is planned for Saturday, September 13. at the Addison Thompson's of 201 Glorietta Boulevard.

Acalanes Dons to Face Bulldogs in First Game

Coaches Jack Carhart and Buzz Williams have their work cut out as they plan for the 1958 Acalanes varsity grid season.

In two weeks, September 19 to be exact, they travel to Martinez to meet the Alhambra Bulldogs, who have better than 20 lettermen on hand, and what appears to be their best eleven in recent years.

THE DONS have been undergoing two-a-day practice sessions plus chalk talks and that was cut down to one-a-day sessions starting last Wednesday with the opening of school.

The Dons are definitely on the light side and experience is on the short side with depth a problem most of the way.

Heaviest linesman on the first string is Dewaine Stultz at left end and Phil Condit at center, both of whom scale 185 pounds.

Heaviest man on the Squad is Denny Toll, sophomore tackle, at 204.

IN THE BACKFIELD Gary Greble at halfback is top in weight at 170, with the rest falling in the 140-150 pound class.

Coach Carhart has been carrying approximately 40 on the varsity squad, but cuts were on tap in mid-week.

Chances are the squad will be a small one, with emphasis on precision and technical skill. Depth is a real problem, and plans call for players to learn at least two positions.

THE TENTATIVE first string after three days of practice:

Tenor in Cologne Opera Visits Aunt in Orinda

A buffet supper was held August 16 at the home of Mrs. Sidney K. Rosenthal, 7 Del Mar Court, Orinda, in honor of her nephew, Russell Roberts, leading tenor at the Cologne Opera House in Germany. Roberts is here on vacation with his wife and two little boys, Bruce and Roger.

A San Francisco boy who made good, Roberts spent most of his life in San Francisco except for the years he attended the University of California at Berkeley. He was a teaching fellow at the university for a short time after his graduation.

WHILE IN BERKELEY he was a member of the University Glee Club, then under the direction of C. R. "Brick" Morse, and studied voice with Mr. Morse for several years. His later lessons were with Doctor Hans Leschke of San Francisco.

While still in America he continued his singing in New York with the Salmaggi Opera Company and went on concert tour. Later he studied in Rome and then accepted a contract in Germany where he was tenor lead for one year at Nunster. His next contract was with the Opera in Basel, Switzerland, and he made guest appearances on the continent.

He has just completed a year with the Opera at Cologne, Germany with guest appearances in Berlin and elsewhere.

Roberts is the son of the late Richard Humphrey and Emilie Lovdal Roberts of San Francisco. His mother was a musician who sang over station KUO in the early days of radio.

IN ORINDA the Cologne Opera tenor met the winner of the San Francisco Opera Company's recent debut auditions, Frances Groves, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Murray H. Groves of Orinda.

Martinez Sportsmen Slate Striped Bass Derby Harvest

Martinez, where the west coast's first stripers were planted 79 years ago, will hold its first Bass Derby in 20 years October 18-19.

Plans for the fishing contest were announced today by Chet Walter, president of the Martinez Sportsmen's Club, which completed arrangements at a dinner Wednesday. The mteting was held at the club's new quonset headquarters on the city-owned waterfront.

Walter, who will serve as general chairman, announced that several committee heads have been named and others will be appointed later. A. W. Sullenger will be in charge of tickets; William Pongrace will arrange for the weighing-in-station; Chris Atkinson will head the prizes committee and Everett Johnson and Jim Ritch will be in charge of publicity.

Striped Bass were introduced to the Bay Area in 1879 when more than 100 fish were transported cross country by rail in tanks and planted in Carquinez strait between Martinez and Benicia. A second small shipment was brought out from the Chesapeake Bay two years later.

In the intervening four decades, the stripers have multiplied, becoming the foremost game fish in Northern California. Bass weighing as much as 50 pounds have been taken on line and hook in inland waters of the bay.

The derby will be open to all pleasure anglers who desire to file entries, according to Walter, and there will be scores of prizes. The weighing-in-station will be established at the Martinez Municipal Wharf.

Tax Measure

"Proposition No. 17 is one of the most damaging schemes ever attempted in California and the Contra Costa Real Estate Board will use every resource at its command to help defeat it," Board President Allan Ingalls declared today.

In announcing the Board's unanimous stand against the November ballot measure, Ingalls said, "Every Californian must be warned that this tax tampering initiative threatens to impose even higher taxes on the already overburdened property owner."

Knights May Give Piedmont Tussle

The Las Lomas Knights, boasting a hefty club with veterans at almost every spot, find themselves with a team rated by many to give Piedmont a tussle for top spot.

The line, anchored by veteran tackle Dave Weil, who at 6 foot 5 inches and 255 pounds is the circuit's biggest player, gives promise of being a rugged one.

COACH GEORGE DeKLOTZ plans on a roster of 5, out of a turnout of 94.

Two-a-day drills last Monday and Tuesday plus one-a-day workouts until the opener with Sir Francis Drake September 19 figure to get the Knights ready for the 1958 opener.

Clark Ransome, a standout as a sophomore when he transferred by way of Los Gatos as an end, he could spell trouble with his has been moved to fullback where 195 pounds on his 6-foot-2-inch frame.

RANSOME WAS one of the league's best all-around atheletes, outstanding in football, baseball and basketball during the 1957 season. He looks to be taking up in 1958 where he left off in 1957.

Coach DeKlotz and his aide, Duane Lewis, have come up with a veteran-loaded first eleven—with one exception, at center, where it is a wide open race among four or five candidates.

Miramonte

Miramonte had the smallest turnout in the circuit when but 50 turned out for varsity and jayvee football, so new head man Bob Brooks has a problem, more than most, in finding depth.

His tentative first eleven is composed of players for the most part who have been together the past three years as teammates, which is offset somewhat by the fact that Coach Brooks is in his first year as head man, and that always means some changes in techniques and system.

The Matadors are entering their first year of varsity play as this is their crop of seniors, having opened with only freshmen four years ago.

Eight seniors and three juniors make up a tentative starting eleven which as Brooks was quick to point out is subject to change from day to day.

NATIONAL HOME WEEK

NELS G. SEVERIN, San Diego, California, President, National Association of Home Builders, sponsors of National Home Week

National Home Week Is Evaluation Time for Home Buyers

YOU ARE in the market for a new home and you want to have an opportunity to look and compare — to see and choose — to select and buy.

Home Builders in America recognize this, so each year a week is set aside to bring you up-to-date on design, construction, livability, neighborhood, all the factors so important to you when you make the all important decision on the new home you buy.

Competition is as great and possibly greater between Home and Builders than in any other market. Home Builders are individualists, each striving to create a selling climate for his particular home. In any city or town or suburb you find many builders, each trying to outdo the other in giving value. This is because there are so many people engaged in the business of building homes.

Every builder feels deeply that he gives the best value, and so each builder wants to have you look at what he has to offer and also look at what other builders have to offer. NATIONAL HOME WEEK comes about because of the willingness of these individuals to participate in this great market place, this unusual display of the best and the newest.

Buying a new home is a serious business, one which requires careful analysis, careful planning on the part of the purchaser.

The Merchandising Department of the National Association of Home Builders urges all prospective home buyers to take full advantage of NATIONAL HOME WEEK.

Go see the new homes. See what you can have that is within the range of your own pocketbook. See how aware the builders are of the better living you require.

See how carefully land is utilized, how inside arrangements make for more room and more time for life with your family. New ideas, new materials, new thinking — you can see all these by visiting all the new homes on display. It's a look at the future — your future and the future of your family.

On The Lighter Side

by INA BLIESNER • YE 4-3818

CHEERS for Dot Cooper, Fay Hopkins, Alta Summers and Dot Thomas who, representing the Orinda Country Club, won the "Marion Hollins Trophy" at the Monterey Peninsula Country Club. This was Orinda's first win there and the scores were 74-75-77-78—which, as you golfers know, are terrific.

A TWO DAY invitational was held recently at Orinda with Alta Summers chairmaning the "Best Ball of Partners" affair which was sponsored by the "Trophy Fund" golfing gals. Each member invited one guest and there were 104 players who had a marvelous time.

Accolades for Dinner

Very special accolades go to Ruth Walker who was the chairman of the hostesses and did such a fine job! There was an evening dinner, of course, and on the second day a very lovely luncheon which was held on the club's newly decorated terrace lanai.

The guests were presented with bright green felt cocktail aprons upon which golf motifs had been appliqued. Winners in each class were given stunning solid gold charms for their bracelets.

Incidentally, Fay and Roland Hopkins are high in the clouds these days for they won a trip to Paris (somehow in relation to Roland's position with Stanley Home Products) and will be flying over soon for a month's stay in Europe.

Attends Symposium on Combustion

Also far from home is Erni Starkman of Orinda who is a professor of Aeronautical engineering at U. C. Ernie is in England attending the seventh International Symposium on Combustion being held in London and Oxford.

He is representing the University of California at the meetings and has also been assigned to write an article about the symposium for a technical magazine. While in England, Professor Starkman also plans to visit the Thornton Research labs of Shell Oil Company in Chester, England and renew acquaintances with several friends there who have visited in this country.

On his return to the states he will see former Orindans, Edy and Harold Hartsough in Washington, D.C. where they have been living for the past year.

Merit Badge Camping Trip

Neighbors, Stan Sorem and Sutherland (Sonny) Hutton took their sons, Mike and Tom, plus two other boys, Dick Sutliffe and Bob Hampton, into the High Sierras on a pack trip which gave the boys an opportunity to do many achievements towards Boy Scout merit badges. The boys helped plan, shop for and prepare the food. They also packed and cared for the pack animals on the trip. It was quite an experience — especially sleeping out in the terrific storms they have been having up in those parts during the past few weeks.

The trip lasted for a week and covered some breathtakingly beautiful country out of the Sonora Pass area.

Jeannette Fayram is back from the Stanford Alumni Camp at Fallen Leaf Lake where she and her three youngsters, David, Margaret and Ricky spent a restful week.

Easterners Entertained

The Jack Wolvertons of Upper Valley had, as recent house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Harmer and their son, Dick, of Hartsdale, N.Y. As this was the Harmers first visit to the West Coast, Evelyn and Jack Wolverton and their children, Michael and Judy, arranged a full-time schedule for their guests.

There were trips to Yosemite, Reno and Tahoe and over the week-end a swimming-potluck supper was held on the patio. Attending were the Ernest Millhollands, William Russes, Robert Lelands and Robert Kuhns. The Harmers loved our beautiful weather and were particularly impressed with the lack of guard rails on our many mountainous roads.

Holmgrens Feted on Return from Europe

Don't know of any couple whose parties are more enjoyed than Bobbye and Bill McGuire's. Saturday night the long-awaited Holmgrens were feted by the same large group of friends who had said goodbye to Van and Stan exactly one year before.

41-year-old Jewelry Firm Opens Third Store Here

The third store of the 41-year-old Davidson and Licht Jewelry Company is holding its Grand Opening today and tomorrow in its new location, 1258 South Broadway in the Broadway Shopping Center, Walnut Creek.

"The Walnut Creek branch of Davidson and Licht, will specialize in perfect blue white diamonds and other precious jewelry, including unique and unusual gold and silver gifts," Manager Carlton Licht noted.

"OUR GRAND OPENING plans include a sale of diamonds, watches, sterling and gold jewelry from 20 per cent to 50 per cent below regular prizes. In addition, a free prize drawing for over $2500 of fine jewelry will be held. It is only fitting that we offer such outstanding values to this area on this occasion," Licht, who will be store manager, announced.

The new store, reportedly built at a cost of $75,000, was designed by Sylvan Stenge, Bay Area designer. Architect for the project was Robert B. Liles of San Francisco.

Speaking of his new store, the manager commented that it is considered to be one of the most modern jewelry stores in America.

The front is constructed of Italian marble and gold mosaic tile.

"IT IS A TRULY startling and attractive addition to the many fine stores in the Broadway Shopping Center," Licht said.

Aiding Licht will be Norman Licht, general merchandise manager and supervisor, and a staff of five.

Heading the watch repair department will be Hugo Koskela, a master horologist with over 20 years experience in the care of timepieces.

Jewelry Firm to Continue Long-Established Policy

"The Walnut Creek Branch of the Davidson and Licht firm will continue the policies already established at the parent store in Oakland," Arthur H. Licht, senior firm member, said today.

The Davidson and Licht Jewelry Company was established in Oakland 41 years ago. Its present headquarters are at 17th and Broadway. In October of 1952 a second store was added in Hayward.

"Carlton Licht, manager of the Walnut Creek store comes to the Walnut Creek establishment with many years of experience gained in both the Oakland and Hayward operations, the senior Licht noted.

The senior firm member, joined manager Carlton Licht in expressing his confidence in the growth of Contra Costa County in general and the Broadway Shopping Center in particular. "We look forward happily and eagerly to many, many years of service and friendship with the residents of this wonderful area", he said. "Therefore, we will endeavor to provide them with only the finest in diamonds, gift jewelry and service."

"It is a wonderful feeling to be able to make new, valued friendships in one of the most vital and growing areas in the west," Carlton Licht added.

Perfect Blue-White Stones Are Featured

"Perfect" blue-white diamonds, gold, silver and platinum mountings along with unique gifts will be available to the public at Davidson and Licht, Jewelers, according to Carlton Licht, manager.

"All diamonds sold are of perfect blue-white quality which is a result of a special buying program initiated by senior firm member and founder, Arthur H. Licht," the younger Licht said.

Licht pointed out that customers will find such famous names as Omega, Girard-Perregaux, Hamilton and all nationally-advertised watches in the watch department. Also featured are 14-karat gold accessories for men and women, unusual precious gifts and sterling silver.

Free Band Clinic Starts Wednesday

Next Wednesday at Sherman and Clay, Broadway Shopping Center, a free beginners' band clinic for adults and children will be held.

Douglas Spencer, manager, commented that the clinic would be held from 7 to 9 p.m.

"The purpose of the clinic is to aid beginning band students and their parents to decide which instrument would be best for the youngster to play," Spencer stated.

Instructors will be present to assist in the clinic, he said, inviting the public to attend.

Debbie Cooper and Susan Smith Win Pony, Burro

The question that arose out of the awarding of "Broadway Boy" and "Bonnie B. Burro" at the Broadway Shopping Center last weekend is, "Are the parents half as perplexed as their offspring are delighted?"

The winners were Debbie Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Cooper of Treat Lane, Concord, who won "Broadway Boy", a white pony, and Susan Smith, of 791 Highland Avenue, Piedmont, winner of "Bonnie B. Burro."

Nearly 150 boys and girls gathered excitedly Saturday afternoon at the Broadway "Corral", where Broadway Merchants Association Chairman George Webster had the lucky names drawn from more than 15,000 slips of paper.

Each slip of paper represented a boy or girl who wanted to win the pony or burro, and who had signed up during the Broadway "Back to School" event.

Mel Brown, MacDonald Products representative, was also present.

Webster smilingly commented, "One of the parents asked what they could do with a burro. I told her that they are gentle, docile, and make fine pets."

During the big event, thousands of children and their parents admired Broadway Bill and the burro, and rode on the pony rides offered at the corral.

Webster also said that he was amazed at the large number of slips turned in by the children. The drawing was actually accomplished by two little girls chosen from the crowd by Webster.

New Fall Suit Symbolic Of Many Values to Men

What does a new suit mean to a man?

To a youngster, it is a symbol of approaching manhood. To a mature citizen, it is a solid tie to a vital and active life. To the average fellow, it means the pleasure and prestige in knowing he's attired in the "latest," in knowing he's dressed right, in realizing that he's more likely to do his best because he looks his best.

Fortunately for men of all ages and preferences, reports the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear, Fall '58 suit styles are handsome and have what it takes to make a man feel things are going his way.

THE MEN'S MODEL for fall that is most discussed, though far from being the most widely worn, is the "Ivy." This classic style, formerly the distinctive uniform of college students and ultra-conservative Eastern businessmen, has become a coast-to-coast hit, to judge from the way it's been imitated. Its soft construction, easy fitting lines and trim silhouette make it especially flattering to men with youthful ideas and physiques to match.

The "American Executive" model retains the trim lines of the "Ivy" but places a bit more emphasis at the shoulder line and, though other various tricks of the tailor's art, manages to play up a fellow's good physical features while playing down bad ones, such as a developing middle spread.

The "American Ambassador" model is aimed at the more fashion-conscious man. Californian in origin, the Ambassador model has a more defined shoulder line, a forward pitch to the sleeve, and close placement of its three buttons to give it a long rolling lapel that carries a very small notch where it meets the collar. This is a flattering style for both young men and men of mature proportions.

NEWEST OF THE four 1958 models is the "American Continental." This suit is quite an innovation. The shoulders are as trim as the Ivy's although perhaps a trifle higher, the jacket is somewhat shorter than that of the other three, and the coat front is more sharply cut away and more rounded than any seen recently.

One of the distinctive marks of the Continental model is the high placement of its two buttons and is smart peaked lapel, which is the type usually seen on a double-breasted suit.

Clothing colors for fall continue to range from medium to dark.

CLEAR-CUT worsteds in a wide range of patterns from classic sharkskins to wriggly, self-striped Continental styles are top favorites. There is also more interest in the sleeker worsteds flannels as opposed to the nappier wool flannels.

New, light-weight wool men's suits for year 'round wear are handsomely exemplified by this single-breasted, three-button grey town suit.

Wagon Ho Restaurant In Broadway

Grand opening of the Wagon Ho Restaurant in the Broadway Shopping Center is today and tomorrow, according to John Crosetti and Joe Bernardi, partners.

"The restaurant will feature all you can eat for nominal prices in a chuck wagon style," Crosetti noted.

"Feature of the house will be prime ribs prepared by Chef Bud Divers. At the cocktail lounge greeting friends will be mixologists Tony and Al," Bernardi said in inviting residents to try the cuisine at the Wagon Ho.

Capwell's Will Present Bridal Fashion Show

"Bridal Magic for Fall and Winter" is the theme of a fashion show in the Bridal Salon of Capwell's, Broadway Shopping Center, Saturday at 2:30 p.m.

"Everyone is invited to view Capwell's latest collections of Bridal gowns and bridesmaids' dresses," John Tague, store manager, commented.

Over the past two Saturdays, Capwell's has held Back-to-School shows featuring casuals and dresses, Tague noted.

"The bridal show, in our salon on the second floor, will be an outstanding event. Never before has such an array of bridal fashions been shown in this area," Tague concluded.

Experts Give Advice on How to Purchase Shoes

The average family buys about 3.5 pairs of shoes, according to a recent government survey, but in the opinion of Ron Holloway, shoe salesman at the J. C. Penney department store in Walnut Creek, family shoe purchases here top the national average considerably.

"I don't have the figures to prove it but from my observations I'd say the average family here buys at least double the national average of shoe purchases", Holloway said. "Even more important, most people would get even greater satisfaction from their purchases if they knew more about how to select their shoes."

MANY FACTS about shoes, he pointed out, are known only to experts. Is the leather top grain or split grain? Will the sole wear well? Are the unseen parts well-made? It takes years of experience to answer these questions. "But", said Holloway, "whether they buy their shoes from us or elsewhere, shoppers can help themselves to better values if they will check five key points."

1. DECIDING THE PURPOSE. Even before entering the store, you should decide whether you want dress shoes, walking shoes, specialized work shoes or some other type. Planning will help you come out with what you went in for.

2. MEASURING YOUR FOOT. Insist upon having one foot measured—memory is a tricky thing, and besides, size can change even among adults. Try on both shoes before buying. This will prevent error in the event one foot is smaller than the other.

3. JUDGING THE FIT. The "feel" is most important here, but check, while walking, to see that your heel is well seated and doesn't slip up. The top of the upper should fit snugly against your foot, but not so tightly that it leaves a red line under the sock. Make sure your foot rests comfortably on the insole of the shoe.

If the shoe size is the same as that of the shoes you are wearing, look at the soles of your old pair. If the forward part shows excessive wear, the size is too long. If your shoes were too tight, the linings and insoles may show severe discoloration.

For children's shoes there are special considerations. If it's a child's high-top you're buying, be sure the top fits snugly around the heel to grip the foot well. The toes should permit the child to stand with natural balance; that is, feel parallel, toes straight forward, weight distributed properly. And always remember how rapidly children's feet grow — have your shoe dealer check for size before resoling old shoes.

4. LOOKING INSIDE. Check to see that the lining is smooth without wrinkles or heavy seams. Then look at the insole—if cracked or ridged, it will make the shoe too uncomfortable to wear. Run your hand inside the shoe, and make sure it feels smooth all the way to the toe.

Soft, fluid draping, dramatized by an Empire bow, marks this smart crepe dress for fall.

5. SANITIZATION. While you're in a questioning mood, find out whether the shoes you are considering are Sanitized. If they are, you'll never have to worry about unpleasant odors, for Sanitized inhibits odor-producing bacteria and fungi. In addition, point out Penney shoe buyers, who don't accept shoes unless they're Sanitized, you never need worry about fungi and bacteria from a previous customer who tried on the same pair of Sanitized shoes.

There's no doubt about it? Buying the right shoes for you can be a bother. But it pays off—in comfort, wear and economy.

When you shop at home you save gas, tires, nerves, and time. Try it!

Michaels Named Institute Head For Bay Area

Leading menswear merchants recently formed a Bay Area Chapter of the American Institute of Men's and Boy's Wear.

Officers elected were Arnold Michaels, Grodins of California, president of the Chapter; Robert Roos, Roos/Atkins, vice president; and Kaywood Webb, Hastings, secretary-treasurer.

"The purpose of the organization is to bring to the local level the national men's apparel industry drive to encourage better dress," Michaels said. "The slogan 'Dress Right. When You Look Your Best, You Do Your Best' provides the theme for a national advertising campaign to appear in leading magazines this fall and, subsequently, in local newspapers throughout the country."

The advertising campaign is backed by a strong program to develop better grooming habits among school students, according to Michaels. Four years ago, he said, Buffalo school authorities inaugurated a Correct Dress code which they feel aided in reducing juvenile delinquency, and found a definite relationship between the dressing and grooming habits of students and their behaviour patterns.

"It is this experience which the American Institute intends to place before the school authorities in the Bay Area and local merchants will assist, if required, in formulating codes for schools here," Michaels added.

Local stores represented included Capwell's, Smith's and Grodins.
